at the crisis of his republic plato asks us to imagine what could possibly motivate a philosopher to return to the cave voluntarily for the benefit of others and at the expense of her own personal happiness this book shows how plato has prepared us his students to recognize that the sun like idea of the good is an infinitely greater object of serious philosophical concern than what is merely good for me and thus why neither plato nor his socrates are eudaemonists as aristotle unquestionably was with the transcendent idea of beauty having been made manifest through socrates and diotima the dialogues between symposium and republic lysis euthydemus laches charmides gorgias theages meno and cleitophon prepare the reader to make the final leap into platonism a soul stirring idealism that presupposes the student's inborn awareness that there is nothing just noble or beautiful about maximizing one's own good while perfectly capable of making the majority of his readers believe that he endorses the harmless claim that it is advantageous to be just and thus that we will always fare well by doing well plato trains his best students to recognize the deliberate fallacies and shortcuts that underwrite these claims and thus to look beyond their own happiness by the time they reach the allegory of the cave the culmination of a carefully prepared ascent to the good recent insights into the nature of representation and power relations have signaled an important shift in perspective on anthropology from a fieldwork based science of culture to an interpretive activity bound to the discursive and ideological process called text making this collection of essays reflects the ongoing cross fertilization between literary criticism and anthropology focusing on texts written or influenced by anthropologists between 1900 and 1945 the work relates current perspectives on anthropology's discursive nature to the literary period known as modernism the essays each demonstrating anthropology's profound influence on this important cultural movement are organized according to discourse type from the comparativist text of frazer to the ethnographies of boas benedict mead and hurston and on to the surrealist experiments of the college de sociologie meanwhile the book's orientation shifts from essays that approach anthropology from the vantage points of literariness and textual power to those that contemplate what bearing the junction of cultural theory and anthropology can have upon present and future social institutions in addition to the editor contributors include vincent crapanzano deborah gordon richard handler arnold krupat francesco loriggio michele richman marty roth marilyn strathern robert sullivan john b vickery and steven webster originally published in 1990 the princeton legacy library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of princeton university press these editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions the goal of the princeton legacy library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by princeton university press since its founding in 1905 silicon valley the heart of america's advanced computer business in california is the place where the future is being shaped where the wildest electronic fantasies are already commonplace or out of date where fortunes are made or lost on an idea where science and commerce are inextricably and sometimes uncomfortably linked here men and women stake their lives their fortunes their careers their marriages on the dream of that one scientific breakthrough it's a game for the smart the young the tough it's a game that burt mathias has won but for how long mathias is a self made businessman who built the computer firm solitron into a multimillion dollar corporation his college friend and partner alan steinberg is the computer genius of the operation who explores the farthest reaches of computer intelligence while mathias manages the finances but mathias stands on the brink of personal and professional ruin about to lose both his wife and his business to save solitron from bankruptcy he must gamble everything on whether steinberg can perfect the first computer ever to simulate human consciousness and once the job is complete there is only one way to prove this remarkable ability to the incredulous world the turing test which will match the electronic intelligence against the human mind which will make burt mathias either a victor or a laughingstock and which will rouse man's deepest fears of being replaced by artificial life as the deadline approaches the race to test the computer changes the lives of everyone connected to solitron diane caswell mathias beautiful wife who is infuriated by her own discovery of burt's greed and infidelity and uses her skills as a computer programmer to wreak vengeance maralee sonderson a cold midwestern beauty whose intelligence and competitiveness have made her a top correspondent at the new york times and who finds in silicon valley and burt mathias the scoop of her career martha the magnificent the pseudonym of a brilliant but shy and painfully thin woman whose home brew computer novels send steinberg off in search of her vincent thomas the stanford professor whose services are commandeered by solitron and whose excitement at completing such a program makes him only slightly less suspicious of mathias veiled threats silicon valley is an absorbing prophetic novel set among the possibilities and probabilities of the computer age where success hinges on the speculative advances of modern technology and the unpredictable turns of human emotion jacket
